Acknowledgements

Of published sources, the school magazine, "The Miltonian", which has been produced ever since September 1912, has been an invaluable mine of information, as has also, during the periods of its existence, "The Milton News". The school produced a Golden Jubilee brochure in 1960 which traced much of the history in outline and the school magazines of 1968 (to celebrate Bulawayo's 75th Anniversary) and 1970 both contained substantial sections on the school's past.

For many years the Chronicle reported the doings of Milton in considerable detail if not always with commensurate accuracy; it also occasionally made reference to St. John's School, and here the Mashonaland Quarterly was also of value.

The following books were also very helpful:

N.D. Atkinson: Teaching Rhodesians (Longman, 1972)

J.B. Clarke: Plumtree School (Plumtree School, 1978)

R.A.B. Ewbank: The Forerunners (St. John's Cathedral, 1985)

ed. I.P. MacLaren: Some Renowned Rhodesian Senior Schools (Books of Zimbabwe, 1981)

ed. I.P. MacLaren: More Rhodesian Senior Schools
(Books of Zimbabwe, 1982)

Peter McLaughlin: Ragtime Soldiers
(Books of Zimbabwe, 1980)

I owe a considerable debt to many individuals: to Sharon Hale for her assistance in producing the first draft of this history which formed the basis of the Milton chapter on "Some Renowned Rhodesian Senior Schools"; to Barry Knight, the Very Revd. R.A.B. Ewbank, Dean of Bulawayo and the Rt. Revd. R.W.S. Mercer, Bishop of Matabeleland for much of the material on St. John's School and Milton's links with St. John's Church and Cathedral; to Robin Ewbank again, Harry Fincham, Robert Mercer again, Adrian Thomas, Alex Walker and my wife for reading the manuscript and making many useful suggestions; to numberless but not forgotten individuals who contributed a piece of information that was nowhere printed; to Edith Sturgess of Robal Studios for much assistance in the reproduction of old photographs; to Andy Hendry for the photographs of the present school; to Paddy Vickery and Barry Knight again, for their help in the Bulawayo Public Library's Historic Reference Collection; to Sally Dacomb and my wife for help in choosing "Milton Verse"; to Gerard D. Smith whose brief, unpublished memoir of Pat Judson was most useful; to Elda Bortolan and Adrian Thomas again for reading the proofs; to the Headmaster and School Council for making publication of this book possible in the first place.

In making acknowledgement and thanks for much assistance generously given, I should like to make it clear that any errors that remain are mine and mine alone.
